

WILDFLOWER

2020 ROSÉ

WESTERN AUSTRALIA

Wildflower Western Australia There are over 12,000 species of wildflowers that grow in Western Australia, over half of which cannot be found anywhere else on earth. The native bush surrounding our vineyards abounds with these vivid blooms providing a distinctive wine landscape like no other.

Tasting Note Just like the region's flora, this wine is distinctively Western Australian - Made from Shiraz, and sourced from Frankland River, this dry and thirst-quenching Rosé with delicate and refreshing aromas of red fruits is best served chilled and enjoyed immediately.

Verticordia monadelpha, Pink
Morrison, Pink or White Woolly.

In the family Myrtaceae, consisting of around 100 species, the genus Verticordia (common name feather flower's) only occurs in Australia. Apart from one species on the Eyre Peninsula in South Australia and three in the tropical north of Northern Territory and Western Australia, the remainder are endemic to the south-west shrub land and sand heaths of Western Australia. Verticordia monadelpha distribution. The popularity of some species, including Verticordia monadelpha, for floral arrangements has resulted in over picking from the wild, and research for farming of selected forms is being undertaken.
